

Children create a matching pair of their own with dots and a number.

The pictures represent the number 12. Children create their own representations in pictures of their chosen number.

